

KEYSTONE & NORTH TAMA VETERINARY CLINICS

Meet Our Doctors!

Dr. Nicole Knaack is the owner of the Keystone and North Tama Veterinary Clinics. Dr. Knaack enjoys bovine embryo transfer and artificial insemination as well as small animal cases. She and her husband, Andrew, live in Traer with 3 children, Kolt, Emmet, and Julie.

Dr. Katey Ternus hails from La Porte City, Iowa. Dr. Ternus enjoys bovine artificial insemination and our small ruminant patients. She and her husband, Joe, and their dog, Gus, currently live in Clutier, Iowa.

Dr. Abbey Smith comes from Adel, Iowa. Dr. Smith enjoys our equine patients and small animal surgeries. She and her husband, Tanner, live in Belle Plaine with their three Australian Shepherds, Tara, Tessa, and Ned, and several sheep.

New Clinic Services!

Our Keystone clinic offers haul in facilities for horses to use our stocks for radiographs, examinations, and teeth floats.

Both clinics offer in-house bloodwork, urinalysis, radiographs, and grieving areas for end-of-life decisions.

Drs Knaack and Ternus offer bovine reproductive services such as artificial insemination, embryo transfer, and pregnancy checking services.

Dr Smith offers acupuncture on small and large animal patients and is currently working on her chiropractic certification!
